

NEW COURSE STARTS Spring 2023

Keep on writing!

A continuous course to develop and write manuscripts for peer reviewed journals

Aim: Within this (ONSITE and ONLINE) course the participants will be guided through all stages before submitting a manuscript to a peer review journal. The inputs are from the facilitator but also from all participants. Each participant works on her/his own material over one year.

Maybe you have concerns, if such a course is of help for you.

Your concern I do not work on a manuscript at the moment.

My answer It is better to start with the course too early than too late!
You need some results and then you can start writing.

Your concern Do I need a specific scientific background?

My answer No! The course covers topics from humanities to medicine. Any types of manuscripts are fine!

Your concern It is so time consuming to attend such a course and I cannot do homework in addition to my regular job.

My answer The course will take place six times during the year. Since you will work on your manuscript it is not a loss of working time, it is working time devoted to writing.

Meeting dates: Full day online retreats: 3 March; 20 April (9am to 5pm)
Onsite Meeting: 27 January (10am to 1pm); 16 February (2pm to 5pm);
30 March (2pm to 5pm); 4 Mai (2pm to 5pm)

Credits: 1 ECTS (attendance of 5 of the 6 sessions)

Costs: free of charge

Facilitator: PD Dr. Jürgen Barth – barth.writing@gmail.com

eBook: <https://www.springer.com/de/book/9783662566824>

The course is open to GHS students only. Register in KSL/CST by November 2022

Contact info@ghs.unibe.ch if they have questions concerning the registration.